

Carnegie Museum of Natural History

Section of Invertebrate Zoology

Biodiversity Services Facility

4400 Forbes Avenue

Pittsburgh, PA 15213-4080

Phone: (412) 622-3259

Professional Insect Identification Services

 Now Accepting Projects for the 2009 Field Season ***

OUR SERVICES:

- Screening and Identification of a Range of Sample Types
-- from bulk trap samples down to individual specimens
- 90 Day Turnaround Time for Projects Submitting Bulk Trap Samples
- Secure, Instant Data Access and Reporting via BSF Website
- Preparation and Curation of Specimens to Professional Standards
-- held in-perpetuity in an internationally known research collection
- Archiving of Bulk Sample Residues for potential future use

TAXA:

- Specializing in Wood-boring Insects
 - Cerambycidae (longhorn beetles)
 - Buprestidae (jewel beetles)
 - Scolytinae (bark beetles)
 - Siricidae (wood wasps)
 - And others
- Carabidae (Ground beetles)
- Macro- and Micro-Lepidoptera
- Tipulidae, and other Diptera
- Other taxa (please inquire if you have specialized needs)

CONTACT INFORMATION:

- For additional information, please contact Bob Androw (AndrowR@CarnegieMNH.Org).
- Visit us online at <http://iz.carnegiemnh.org/CMIC/>

Please pass this flyer on to anyone you think may be interested in these services.